

2016 Construction CPM Conference
Session MON33 Bio

Bio - Ed Mahler, PMP, President of the Project Administration Institute (PAI)

PAI is a consulting firm providing project scheduling and administration services to the corporate world since 1992. Prior to PAI Ed served 23 years with IBM as a systems engineer in a NYC sales office on international customer accounts and as project manager or consultant on IBM internal projects. Ed was founding president of the PMI Westchester (PMIW) chapter from 2002 to 2008 growing PMIW from 0 to over 500 members, and Vice President of Programs for the New York City PMI chapter from 1994 to 2001 helping to build that chapter from less than 50 to over 1200 members with 7 years of monthly programs. Ed has presented at PMI Symposiums and Congresses, Project World, Boston University Frontiers in Project Management, IPMA (International Project Management Association) conferences, the PMI College of Scheduling Conferences in 2012 and 2013, and Construction CPM Conferences in 2014 and 2015, and at PMI and other organization chapter meetings. Ed lives in Larchmont, NY and sails on Long Island Sound.