

Brian Leach is the founder and CEO of Steelray Software. Brian has managed projects for over 30 years at Harris, IBM, Ford, Motorola, and others. Brian's primary expertise is in project schedule visualization and analysis. In 2000, Brian founded Steelray and created the first viewer for Microsoft Project files. In 2007, Steelray introduced Project Analyzer, the first commercially available tool for analyzing the quality of a project schedule.